

PRISON RECEPTION

When checking in, offenders:

- gave their name, date of birth, and details of any medical issues

- had all their possessions taken, recorded and bagged for storage to be returned on their release

- were weighed, photographed, had their height recorded and fingerprints taken

- were then stripped naked and their bodies and clothing searched for drugs and anything that could be used as a weapon or to inflict self-harm.